Program structure:

After two successfully completed semesters of the course MMT at the TUM School of Management, Double Degree Students from TUM SoM will study in the second year of the Master in Management at HEC Paris. The stay abroad begins in September and ends in March of the following year. TUM students receive 40 ECTS for a successful completion of the HEC Paris program (M2 Specialization Phase of the Master in Management), of which at least 30 ECTS credits (24 ECTS credits will be accredited as “Electives in Management and Technology” and 6 ECTS credits as “Advanced International Experience” at TUM SoM) will be accredited, unless there is a substantial difference in the learning outcomes.

Furthermore, while at HEC Paris, Double Degree Students from TUM SoM have to accomplish 15 weeks of a qualified internship. Double Degree Students are encouraged to undertake the internship in France, but may also undertake the internship in any other country. Previous experience may be recognized towards this obligation, unless such previous experience has been undertaken by the concerned Double Degree Student prior his/her completion of Bachelor studies.

Additionally Double Degree Students from TUM SoM can also apply, in addition to the Master in Management, for participation within the HEC Paris certificate programs, which take place from April to June. A certificate program contains 100 hours of fieldwork, courses and business projects and supports you to build a professional network. For successfully completing the certificate programs Double Degree Students can acquire a total of 15 ECTS credits, which are not transferable.
After the year abroad at the HEC, TUM students must return to TUM SoM in order to write their Master’s thesis. Of the 30 credits for the Master thesis, 20 ECTS are recognized as a research paper at HEC. A combination of the research paper at HEC with the Master thesis is possible. It is possible to begin with the research paper at HEC, and then to write the Master thesis at TUM based on it. Under all circumstances, it is necessary to consult the respective supervisors of both universities beforehand. In order to achieve both qualifications at least 60 ECTS must be acquired at HEC together with the requirements of the studies course MMT and a 15-week internship carried out after the award of the Bachelor degree.

Costs at HEC:

During the time at HEC no tuition fees are payable to HEC. Please note, however, that an annual administrative fee to the amount of about € 800 (status in November 2020) is due for payment. This is levied for the costs of infrastructure (e.g. careers service, IT, sport etc.).

Franco-German University:

The Franco-German University is a network of 500 institutions in France, Germany and around the world who strive to facilitate the mobility of students and researchers. Students completing the Double Degree program with HEC receive two nationally recognized degree qualifications of equal value in addition to the FGU certificate. The FGU provides all participating students with financial support in the form of a grant. In addition, students can take part in an online language course offered free by the FGU and prepare themselves for looking for work on the international market by taking intercultural training courses for job applicants.

Please find here further information concerning the FGU. You will be informed by the TUM SoM International Office about all details for the FGU grant as soon as you are nominated for the Double Degree Program with the HEC.
